NO. 36

NEWS OF THE VICINAGE.

Mrs. Polly Page, aged 82, died in Columbia.

The tax levy in Middlesboro has been fixed at $2.

A postoffice has been established at Woolm, Clay county, with Samuel J. Woolm, postmaster.

A new postoffice has been established at Ashby, Madison county, Deborah F. Parsons, postmaster.

The Pantagraph says that Mrs. Richard White, who died at Doyleville a few days ago, weighed 400 lbs. James Calvert, of Junction City, died in Arizona, where he went for his health. He was well known here, having assisted the Stanford band to play on a number of occasions.

Gen. Manager G. E. Evans, of the L. & N., has appointed C. B. Phelps superintendent of transportation. He was assistant superintendent at Nashville. J. L. Welsh will succeed him and W. M. Newbold succeeds Welsh.

The arrest and conviction in County Judge Millon's court last Saturday of Solon Black, a former Negro school teacher of Point Leavel, Garrard county, on the charge of peddling teachers' examination questions, solves a mystery, which has long puzzled the school officers in this section. Every year, for several years past, it has been discovered, just before teachers' examination, that the official questions were in the hands of numerous would-be applicants for teachers' certificates in this, Garrard, Rockcastle, Jackson and Estill counties; and despite the vigilance of the officers the question peddler always managed to escape detection—Richmond Climax.

A peace agreement has been reached at Middlesboro. R. C. Ford is to resign as mayor and W. H. Turner is to get the place, which the present council had declared vacant. Turner and City Judge Bosworth are to get their salary, which the city council had refused to pay. These concessions were made by the democrats, while the republicans agreed to have all the deputy sheriffs taken off and to stop the prosecution of ex-Chief of Police King, who is indicted for confederating to kill and also to use their influence in having two indictments against election offenders, quashed. Both sides agree to use all their moral force to help preserve law and order.

Randall Cook was accidentally cut with an axe, causing a severe wound. He was taken to Dr. Thompson's office, where he received attention and is now improving.

Little Miss Willie May McIsaac, of Chattanooga, was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. B. C. Pennybaker. The latter and daughter, Mrs. Dan Dineen, of Somerset, are at Shaktown to spend the 4th. The few young people, who did not go to Stanford, spent the 4th of July under the trees of Creighton Avenue, where they enjoyed a picnic dinner and later in the evening repaired to the cottage where music and dancing were "served to order" until a late or early hour. John Pinnell, of Somerset, was the pleasant guest of friends here Sunday. Master Fred Burgess, of Louisville, has been the guest of J. A. McKee's family the past week.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

COL. W. G. WELCH received a telegram yesterday stating that his niece, Miss Mary Clay Thompson, of Chicago, and Mr. Edward Andrew Dewitt, of Michigan, were married Wednesday. The bride is one of the most beautiful and charming of women and her many friends here send happy greetings and sincere congratulations.

THE BRIDE.

Mrs. J. F. Holdam writes us that she had just gotten news that Miss Maggie Lee Saunders, who used to live in Stanford, was married at the Chicago Avenue church on the 21st to Mr. W. L. Hunt, of that city. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Huestis and a granddaughter of Mr. Joe Mac James and has many friends here, who wish her all the joys that happy wedded life can bring.

J. S. Turpin and Miss Lee Vaughn, both of the Milledgeville section, were married at the court-house yesterday by Elder J. G. Livingston.

Kansans are so busy that it is mentioned as a sacrifice that a Dickinson county farmer stopped harvesting long enough to attend the weddings of his three daughters.

A judge at Ft. Scott, Kan., granted a divorce to a dissatisfied woman, but aroused her ire by forbidding her to marry the same day. But she took the new man promptly the day after.

BRIEF NEWS NOTATION.

Four children were killed and 23 others injured by an explosion of fireworks at Philadelphia.

A tank of gasoline in the railroad yards at Parkersburg, W. Va., exploded, killing six and wounding 35 other persons.

The fire losses this year have been far above the average, and the returns of the 4th helped to swell the grand total.

Horror treads on each others' heels in New York so fast they follow. Fire in the crowded tenements there caused a loss of 12 lives.

Judge Parker, of Lexington, has under advisement the question whether it is punishment to send a boy to the Houses of Reform.

The Chicago & Rock Island railroad will not employ men who use cigarettes and will discharge any employee caught using them.

The demand is made that Japan be given the job of walling China, while the other Powers stand by and see the job well done.

After 56 days the great street railway strike at St. Louis has been declared off and an agreement has been signed. The old wage schedule continues in force, but employees may join any union. The penalty for intimidation is discharge. Committees of employees will be recognized and old employees, except those engaged in rioting, will be reinstated as vacancies occur.

Fifty thousand dollars' worth of business property was destroyed by a fire in Frankfort, and the family of J. L. Haley, a retired merchant, barely escaped death in the flames. The property destroyed was located at the corner of St. Clair and Broadway streets, just in front of the State Capitol building. The fire was caused by the explosion of fireworks.

Direct The Child.

He who checks a child with terror Stops its play and stills its song. Not alone commits an error, But a grievous moral wrong.

Give it play, and never fear it. Active life is no defect; Never, never break its spirit, Curb it only to direct.

Would you stop the flowing river, Thinking it would cease to flow? Onward must it go forever, Better teach it where to go.

A gentleman, who notices such things, tells us that he counted 70 wheat fields between Stanford and Danville and 39 of them had been threshed, making 25 to 30 bushels per acre.

MIDDLEBURG.

John Paul and Sam Leonard have returned from Coopersville, where they have been hauling for W. T. Durham. Mrs. J. M. Durham and Sam Brack returned home Friday from a visit among relatives in Taylor county. Jason Coffey also returned from Lancaster. Miss Ruth Green, of Covington, is visiting her brother, Rev. Geo. Green. Mrs. James Symson, of Lancaster, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Myers. Dr. I. S. Wesley and family, also of Lancaster, made a flying visit to this place Saturday and returned home Sunday.

In our last letter we overlooked the most important item, the picnic given by the Baptist Sunday school in Jones' park last Thursday, which was very much enjoyed by all, old and young. Besides the bountiful supply of grub and other refreshments they had good music and appropriate speeches, recitations etc., all of which have been highly complimented and especially the recitations given by the little Misses Ruth and Martha Dye, the four and five-year-old daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Dye. The manner in which they performed their parts was worthy of considerable commendation.

Mr. J. K. Coffey, of Yosemite, had his cash drawer robbed of from $5 to $7. When called to dinner Mr. Coffey closed his store and went to his meal, but a young gentleman whose name is Frank Chapman, a 12 or 14-year-old son of the Widow Chapman, formerly of Yosemite, but now of Stanford, had concealed himself somewhere inside the building and finding himself all alone and in full control, he proceeded to supply himself with pocket change and immediately started for Stanford, but was overtaken before he reached that city by Mr. Coffey, who recovered $3 of his money and allowed the young man to proceed on his journey.

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50 cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. BARBOCK, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by Craig & Hoeker.

A CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to say that I feel under lasting obligations for what Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has done for our family. We have used it in so many cases of coughs, lung trouble and whooping cough, and it has always given the most perfect satisfaction, we feel greatly indebted to the manufacturers of this remedy and wish them to please accept our hearty thanks.—Respectfully, Mrs. S. Dory, Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by Craig & Hoeker.

The cases of Caleb Powers, John Davis, Harland Whittaker, Tallow Dick Combs and Henry Youtsey, indicted for being accessory before the fact in the assassination of Gov. Goebel, are set for trial at Georgetown next Monday. The Louisville Dispatch, an assassination organ, says there is not the slightest doubt about the readiness of the accused for trial and they will demand it at once.

LANCASTER.

The dotation party at Miss Lena Bright's Tuesday night, called out a large crowd and many nice presents. Hurrah for Black for governor. I still have the opinion that I had a year ago. He is the logical candidate and he will make a model governor.

I am glad to learn that Editor P. J. Campbell, of the Somerset Journal, is better, for he certainly issues one of the brightest papers in the State. Judge R. G. Williams, of Mt. Vernon, will be one of the judges in the contest on the 12th. Other competent men will be selected and an impartial decision is assured.

As it takes people to make news, nothing occurred here Wednesday as most of our people went to your city to attend the celebration. They report a large crowd and big time generally. Many seats have been taken for the elocutionary contest, Thursday night, July 12, and it promises to be the greatest event of the year. Write or telephone McRoberts' drug store if you want a good seat.

Since the mind reader was here Ed Bishop has been doing some clever work in that line. He can find articles that have been concealed and in many cases he can tell what a person is thinking about. Some are afraid to entertain evil thoughts in his presence.

Gen. D. R. Collier has called a republican mass convention for July 14 to select delegates from this county to the State convention at Louisville, on the 17th to nominate a candidate for governor, to be defeated by Hon. Jas. D. Black. Even Taylor and Finley will not support the nominee of that convention.

Alexander Bourne was plowing a horse Tuesday which ran away, and when he caught him he bit him on the arm inflicting a wound and tearing his shirt-sleeve off. On Wednesday the horse bit himself and died pawing the earth and foaming at the mouth. Dr. Herring was called to see Bourne and great anxiety is felt, as the horse may have been mad.

Prof. J. H. Patterson leaves today to attend the National Educational Association at Charleston, S. C., going from there to the historic Fort Sumpter. Judge J. C. Hemphill and daughter, Miss Theo., are attending the Chattanooga this week. Mr. Tom Stevens has bought the interest of A. E. Cronin in the meat market owned by Gastineau & Cronin.

Miss Mattie Elkin is visiting in Nicholasville. Misses Honeywood Huffman, Maud and Fay Robson will visit relatives here next week. Mr. and Mrs. George Lusk have returned from New Mexico, where Mr. Lusk's health was much improved. Mr. R. G. Ward's new residence will soon be completed. The modern Siamese twins are Jack and Jess, who are inseparable. Traders and farmers will understand.

A few hours stay in your city, the place of my nativity, on Tuesday, was certainly a source of gratification to one who has been a pilgrim for 19 years. The faces of Judges Carson, Alcorn, Bailey, Col. Welch, Sam Wesley, Tom Dalton, Al Warren, Harry McRoberts and many others, looked as familiar to me as $100 bills and a little more so. W. P. and E. C. Walton, with a heavy office force were running 3,000 copies of the INTERIOR JOURNAL on that large new press, which is the finest one in this section of the State. The editor was acting as fireman and engineer while the business manager was conductor.

WOULD NOT SUFFER SO AGAIN FOR FIFTY TIMES ITS PRICE.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. H. WILSON, Liverman, Burgettsdown, Washington Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by Craig & Hoeker.

WAYNESBURG.—Mr. J. M. Johnson has been near Mintonville organizing a lodge of Maccadees. Mr. H. H. Singleton bought a horse and buggy from Mr. C. P. Faulconer, of Danville. S. P. Gooch bought a fine cow and calf of Bright Ferrell for $40. Rev. Ira Parson filled his appointment here last Sunday and preached to a large congregation.

PREVENTED A TRAGEDY.
Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, Ohio, prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. She had tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle wholly cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at Penny's Drug Store.

POLITICIANS AND POLITICS.

A dispatch says that Gov. Beckham is the greatest attraction at the convention.

Judge John E. Cooper, of Mt. Sterling, has taken the stump for Hon. Jas. D. Black.

The Winchester Democrat is printing a series of strong articles favoring the amendment of the election law.

Judge William Richardson was nominated by the democrats of the Eighth Alabama district to succeed Gen. Joe Wheeler.

Ex-Commonwealth's Attorney James D. Garnett, of Trigg, is the latest candidate for the democratic nomination for governor.

The Pantagraph admits that Hon. W. B. Smith could beat Yerkes. Any of them can do that, but we want a man who can beat him 25,000 or more.

The monthly statement of the public debt shows at the close of business, June 30, the debt less cash in the treasury, amounted to $1,107,711,258, a decrease for the month of $14,897,553. This decrease is accounted for by an increase in cash on hand and by redemption of two per cent. bonds.

A dispatch from Richmond, Va., says that Col. Campbell is very bitter in his denunciation of the assassination of Gov. Goebel. Among other things he said: "We are working to bring these assassins to justice and W. S. Taylor, a fugitive from justice, will be brought back to Kentucky to stand trial at the proper time."

Here are a few of the things that voters will do well to make an especial study of between now and election day: The Alger embalmed beef scandal; The financial collusion between John D. Rockefeller and Secretary Gage; The tariff oppression of the Porto Ricans; The United States army outrages on the Congr. d'Alene miners, authorized by William McKimley; Murder, theft and mismanagement in the Philippines; Postoffice rascality and embezzlement in Cuba; The Hay Poincaré treaty by which we are to build the isthmian canal when England commands it.—New York Journal.

Editor Newlon, who used to edit the Richmond Climax, says in his Owen-Herald: "We entertain the highest regard for the gentlemen from Madison county, who is an avowed candidate for governor, and take pleasure in expressing the opinion that he would fill the executive chair to a nicety, but for the sake of an old-time friendship, we would like to offer two suggestions: The candidate who makes an unconditional repeal of the Goebel election law his platform, will be hindmost man in the convention to be held on the 19th of July, and the candidate who is championed by the Louisville Dispatch will be no where in the race."

Not only have the ministers and other foreigners in Peking been abandoned to their fate, but the international forces may even be unable to hold Tien Tsin. An aggressive movement is impossible without re-enforcements, and it may be necessary to retire before the Chinese force that is assembling. An ugly feature of the situation is the entente between the Powers is in danger. Chinese servants who were employed at the legations in Peking are said to have brought news that, after a desperate resistance, the foreigners had been overcome and put to death. Horrible torture has been inflicted by the Chinese on prisoners.

CHURCHES AND PREACHERS.

Dr. Wm. Shelton will fill the Methodist pulpit at 11 A. M. Sunday.

The Baptist church has bought the Blakeman property, adjoining the present location of the church and will begin shortly the erection of a very large and commodious place of worship on the two lots. The new church will be modern and convenient and will necessarily be large to accommodate the congregation.—Danville News.

CHEAP ICE CREAM.—Take a gallon of new milk, and place all of it, except a pint or a little more, into a pan over the fire, and let it be heating. With the pint make a good custard, using two eggs, and thicken with two ounces of corn flour. When the milk approaches the boiling point, add the custard, stirring it constantly till it thickens. Set aside to cool, and when cold freeze in the ordinary way.

STORY OF A SLAVE.
To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work. This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This marvelous working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, run-down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c. Sold by Penny's Druggist."

BRYAN AGAIN NOMINATED.

TEVENSON LEADING FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

KANSAS CITY, July 6.

The convention was unable to make a nomination for vice president last night and adjourned till this morning, with Adlai Stevenson in the lead.

The name of Bryan was presented to the convention by Hon. W. D. Oldham, deputy attorney general of Nebraska. His remarks were greeted by the wildest applause, and confusion reigned for some time after he had finished. Then the matchless statesman was nominated by acclamation amid the most unparalleled scene of enthusiasm.

The committee did not get up in time to report the platform at the morning session, but it was reported at the afternoon session and put through with a whoop.

While the platform specifically reaffirms the 16 to 1 plank of the Chicago platform, the resolutions committee decided that the question of imperialism dwarfs all others, the platform saying: "While other issues are vital, the question of imperialism strikes at the very existence of the republic."

Gov. Beckham was called on to make a speech, while the convention was waiting for the committee to report yesterday and he received the ovation of the day.

The great convention at Kansas City was pulled off at noon on the glorious Fourth in the brand new hall, 340 feet long and 198 feet wide, which was filled to the doors and was gorgeous with bunting. Chairman Jones rapped for order at 12:02, a prayer was offered by a good brother and the mayor of Kansas City delivered the welcome address. As he closed, Senator Hill, of New York, entered the hall and being recognized, was given a grand ovation. After it had somewhat subsided, Gov. Thomas, of Colorado, was introduced as temporary chairman, who read a type written speech, full of good points. At its conclusion, Mr. Campbell, of Michigan, offered a resolution for reading the Declaration of Independence, which was adopted, and the band played the "Star Spangled Banner."

Just then a burst of W. J. Bryan was unrelieved and enthusiasm went wild. When the cheering had subsided, Hampton, of Michigan, read the immortal declaration, which was greeted with applause that shook the building. Miss Fulton, of New York, sang the "Star Spangled Banner," the band played "America" and led by Miss Fulton the 20,000 people broke out into the stirring song, "My Country 'Tis of Thee," amid enthusiasm never to be forgotten. The various committees were then announced and after the lively notes of "Dixie" had filled the hall, the convention adjourned till 4 P. M.

It was 4:43 when the convention convened and the committees not being ready to report another adjournment was had till 5 o'clock. At that hour Congressman James D. Richardson, of Tennessee, was presented as permanent chairman and his tribute to Mr. Bryan caused a most remarkable demonstration. The committee on resolutions still not being able to report the convention adjourned till yesterday morning.

The delay was caused by the determined opposition to a specific declaration for free coinage at 16 to 1. As soon as the committee met the drafts of three proposed platforms were submitted—one by Mr. Metcalf, of Nebraska; another by Mr. Van Wyck, of New York, and a third by Mr. Garrard, of Georgia. The one offered by Mr. Metcalf was received as an expression of Mr. Bryan's views, and contained a specific declaration in favor of free coinage at 16 to 1. This specific declaration was omitted from the two other platforms. All three contained denunciations of trusts and imperialism. A long discussion followed, and at 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning the committee, by a vote of 27 to 25, decided upon a 16 to 1 plank.

It was the intention to nominate Mr. Bryan on Independence day, but the best laid plans slipped a cog, when a fight came up over a specific declaration for free silver. Mr. Bryan telegraphed: "If they want an equivocal platform, then let them nominate an equivocal candidate."

Hon. James B. McCreary had the honor of presenting the permanent chairman to the convention.

There seems to be no disposition at Kansas City, as there was at Philadelphia, to stretch the proceedings of the convention for the accommodation of the bargain counters.

The Kentucky delegation made Gov. McCreary its chairman and selected Senator Blackburn for the committee on resolutions. National Committee-man Urey Woodson was re-elected.

The assessment on the Kentucky delegates and alternates for the parlor in the Coates House, used for Kentucky headquarters, amounts to $5 each. The room stands the delegates $356 per day.

Mrs. J. H. Cohen, of Salt Lake City, Utah, who came as an alternate but who was made a delegate because one of the Utah delegates was sick, sat among the men perfectly at home. Mrs. Cohen wore a black hat, white waist and black skirt.

During the meeting of the New York delegation, Croker accused Hill of not supporting the ticket in 1896 and Hill taunted Croker with being absent in Europe at critical times. This led to the defeat of Hill by Tammany's influence for a place on the committee on resolutions, furnishing the most sensational incident of the day. By a vote of 36 to 28, Augustus Van Wyck was chosen over Hill to represent New York in the construction of the platform.

There was never a time when it was more important for the people to assert themselves as now, so we urge a full attendance at the prelate conventions on the 14th. Let every democrat attend, filled with the spirit of harmony and unite upon the best man for governor. This county is overwhelmingly for Mr. Black, so far as we can discover, but there is no spirit of contention in his favor and no disposition to regard as an enemy the man who prefers another candidate. Let us come together, talk over the matter like brothers and then do what seems best for the party. We must down the assassination sympathizers and send to the rear the man who will not say whether, if he is elected, he will pardon the assassins or not. His silence may be taken that he will. Let us give him no chance to cheat the gallows and the penitentiary.

The tour of Hon. James D. Black through Southern and Western Kentucky has been like the triumphal march of the great army. He has made friends everywhere and if he does not go in the convention with enough votes to nominate him all signs go for naught. The people recognize while the other candidates are good men, Mr. Black is pre-eminently the one to unite all the factions and lead us to certain victory. The man from the mountains is the man of the hour.

Those recent converts to the republican assassination party, the Louisville Post and Dispatch, are trying to run the old machine. They want that party to nominate McKenzie Moss in the 3rd and Judge Beckner in the 10th for Congress, both democratic bolters, but their advice will go unheeded. The republicans may complicitly turncoat with chairmanships and clerkships of conventions, but they say they may when there is any prospect of pap to be had.

"I LIVE IN K. C., ask me," is the inscription worn by the information men at Kansas City. If they are as ignorant of matters as some of the "information" men at the Louisville reunion, the delegates and others won't be able to get much out of them.

The Louisville Times with its illuminated pages of Bryan and the fac simile of the Declaration of Independence was a splendid evidence of the capabilities of the great printing office from which it is published.

E. D. Standiford, Jr., who had a checkered career, died in Louisville Wednesday.

A prison official has ample opportunity for an exhaustive study of crime and its prevention. Therefore a new Prevention book by Rev. August Drahm, chaplain at San Quentin, Cal., entitled "The Criminal," is a work which commands wide recognition as a scientific study of the man behind the bars. Some of his conclusions, well substantiated by long observation, are very interesting, while in the main confirmatory of those of other investigators. Organically, we are told, all crime has its source in anthropological sources. "In time, the personal factors may become so assimilated with the social mass as to almost lose their personal identity." The social element then becomes as fully the feeder of the criminal propensity as the more strictly personal propensities. The greatest proportion of the crimes of civilization are of this kind. The fluctuation of industrial and economical enterprise, the hardships facing the wage-earner, are often a direct invitation to crime. "Intemperance is the chief source of crime, both directly and indirectly. The decrease in the use of alcoholic drinks must ever remain the great aim of all anti-criminal legislation, as well as of moral and social reform."

The author is strongly in favor of state industrial and employment bureaus, to aid the working classes to obtain work, and if necessary furnish tools and temporary assistance. California has such an institution which in one year assisted 5,000 individuals to employment. Money thus expended by the state, under government subsidy and inspection, "will flow back again into its resources, whereas in pauper support and almshouses it represents only dead capital and congested outlay in gratuitous, though laudable, charities."

By the pneumatic hammer the marble carver can strike 6,000 blows a minute as against 30 by hand, and thus can give his whole attention and skill to guiding the chisel. Mechanical power is bringing to the horse the emancipation which it has brought to the artisan. And yet, as a scientist recently said to a sportsman who feared that the horse will fall into disuse: "Automobiles will not displace horses until typewriters displace pianos." In their proper field the nobles of animals will never go out of fashion.

"The days of frontier life in Arizona are fast fading away," remarks the Tombstone Epitaph, in a congratulatory tone. "That's a fact," comments the Prescott Courier, published in the same territory. "When we came here, over 20 years ago, we could leave all the doors of our house wide open and all sorts of valuable plunder scattered around the yard, go away, stay a week and find nothing molested upon our return. Now, a broken-backed grubbing hoe left out over night disappears."

Physicians say that there is no person who can retain his or her mobility of character under long-continued bodily distress. The argument that some invalids and cripples have beautiful dispositions does not apply, for the reason that although such persons imagine themselves in constant pain, there are really long intervals of relief and quietude.

Moved to pity by the hard-luck story of a tramp who called at his Washington residence a few evenings ago, Congressman Crump, of Michigan, gave the fellow a pair of good shoes. Then he missed two fine umbrellas, at once followed the man, and compelled him to carry them back and put them where he found them.

As a contribution to the discussion of higher education for women the testimony of Miss Caroline Hazard, the new president of Wellesley college, is important. She says more Wellesley girl graduates than Harvard boys, proportionately, have married.

A writer in an eastern paper estimates that there were 500,000,000 fowls in the United States last year, and that the number of eggs produced was about 17,400,000,000. The value of these fowls and of their product is set down at $420,000,000.

America, ahead in all things, has within its limits the largest hog in the world. This porcine monster is owned by T. W. Williams, of Decatur, Ala. It weighs 1,324 pounds, is ten feet two inches in length, and over four feet high.

It is said the pie bakers of New York attribute the great demand lately for their product to a disappearance of the belief that pies are indigestible. Even athletes now eat pies in training.

A young Eskimo woman who is visiting Chicago was greatly disturbed at first by the electric cars. She thought that they were run by devils.

A Milwaukee judge has decided that passengers in street cars have a right to refuse to "move up front" when ordered to do so by conductors.

The place of the hen in political economy may be judged from the statement that 450,000,000,000 eggs are in cold storage in the United States.

"NOMINATE Black and many a republican in the mountains will help elect him," remarked a prominent Knox county republican to an I. J. reporter as he passed through on yesterday's train. "I have never scratched, but I am for Black, and will vote and work for him," he added.

It was indeed a pleasure to welcome our old friend, Col. Thomas A. Rice, of Stanford, who was accompanied by his charming wife, nee Shanks. THE FOURTH

RIGHT ROYALLY CELEBRATED IN STANFORD.

Another 4th of July has been duly celebrated and our people as usual did themselves proud. The program given in our last was carried out faithfully and thousands of people seemed to enjoy it. They were here from all quarters of the county, while Casey, Boyle, Rockcastle, Polaski and Garrard helped largely to swell the crowd. Perfect order was observed and nothing occurred to mar the enjoyment of the day, except the shower that came up just as the parade was moving and which disfigured not a few dresses. There was no speaking, though many orators were invited. This was disappointing to some, but the most of us enjoyed its absence. The Stanford brass band and the little ladies of the orphan home furnished the music and were highly complimented. Bicycle and barrel races, pie eating and other contests occupied the afternoon and at night a highly creditable display of fireworks was given for an hour. A big ball at Walton's Opera House wound up the program of the day and when in the wee sma' hours the dancers went home they were as tired a set of belles and beaux as ever celebrated the glorious 4th.

The first vehicle in the parade was the long Crab Orchard Springs omnibus, carrying the band and streamers advertising D. H. Baldwin's pianos and organs; then came a carriage with Judges Sauley, Bailey and Carson; a landau, representing Joseph Price Infirmary; double team with Drs. Carpenter and Brown; vehicle with A. G. Eastland and Miss Mary Noel carrying advertisement of the Mutual Life Insurance Co.; carriage of Hill & Beck; John Shanks and "Pig" Portman advertising the ball game; J. C. McClary's harness float; Higgins & McKinney agricultural implement display, with lots of young people in a bright new wagon; Kentucky battleship, Severance & Sons; J. Ginsburg four horses in tandem to float advertising Racket Store; Odd Fellows' Widows and Orphans' Home, filled with little girls, singing and waving flags; Morris Fred carrying a sack of corn and followed by four pretty floats, one loaded with his children and all advertising Dix River Mill products; Diadem Lodge of Knights of Pythias' nice float with live goat and members of the order in uniform; R. L. Bosley, C. B. Owens, J. T. Jones, Robert Bruce, John G. Lynn, Jr., and G. Barnes Wearers; Stanford Hook and Ladder Wagon; Bedell Chancellor's and other carriages; J. H. Greer's blacksmith shop; S. H. Baughman on horse back followed by a huge float containing the Stanford Roller Mill employees, its products and other things that they handle; Beasley & Hays' furnished room; Cummins & McClary's shoe department in float full of young people; Hill & Beck's grocery store; Louisville Store, huge umbrella on float driven by Charley Cox; Dr. C. A. Cox's turnout; vehicle advertising Danville fair, Aug. 8-10, and scores of carriages, buggies, &c.

Ice water was in large tubs on all sides and the crowd drank and perspired to their heart's content.

There never was a better behaved crowd. A very few men showed any signs of liquor and they did not misbehave.

Owing to the sickness of Shelton M. Sauley, the job printer who was to run the press, the INTERIOR JOURNAL did not appear in the parade.

Mr. G. L. Penny took his brother Will's place as assistant marshal and made a good one. Chief Marshal Mack Bruce was ably assisted also by Postmaster J. C. Florence and J. C. Bailey.

There were a number of balloon ascensions, but Prof. Cimiotti made a complete failure of his effort. He got hung up in the wires at the INTERIOR JOURNAL office and that was as high as he got.

The crowd was estimated all the way from 2,500 to 6,000, though an unsophisticated old man thought there was between one and two million of people on hand. The parade was hardly up to last year, but the crowd was considerably larger.

The $5 prize for the nicest turnout, offered by Mr. George L. Penny, was awarded by the committee, P. M. McRoberts, A. A. Warren and W. P. Walton, to the Joseph Price Infirmary carriage, which was occupied by a quartette of beauties, Misses Tevis Carpenter, Sue Thompson, Lillie Carpenter and Florence Barnside.

The parade of the Red Men in Indian costumes and on horse back was a feature of the afternoon. There were about 50 of them and an expert could hardly have told them from the real things. The chase of the cow boy was spirited and realistic and Old Man Afraid of The Girls, (S. T. Harris) who seemed to be the high muck-a-muck, was evidently proud of his honors.

The Odd Fellows' Widows and Orphans' Home attracted a great deal of attention and the little orphans made melody during and after the parade. Miss Virginia Warren played the organ accompaniment and Miss Madge Hackley the violin and both did splendidly. Mr. J. T. Harris, who constructed the home, was as proud of it and its occupants as if he was the father of them all.

Mr. A. A. Warren and Will Severance deserve especial mention for the way they worked for the success of the celebration. Mr. Warren looked like he had been through a gin roller yesterday morning and said he felt worse than he looked, because an unappreciative West End woman remarked at the close of the fire display: "Well, if I'd not known that that was the best they could do I should never have rid down here from Hustonville."

A NEGRO man working with Singleton's thesher died from the excessive heat in the West End yesterday.

Royal Baking Powder

Makes The Food More Healthful

Royal Baking Powder possesses peculiar qualities not found in other leavening agents, which arise from the superior fitness, purity and healthfulness of its ingredients.

Royal Baking Powder leavens the food perfectly by its own inherent power without changing or impairing any of the elements of the flour.

Thus the hot-breads, hot-rolls and muffins, and the delicious hot griddle-cakes raised by the Royal Baking Powder are wholesome and digestible, and may be eaten without distress, even by persons of delicate digestion.

Alum baking powders are low priced, as alum costs but two cents a pound; but alum is a corrosive poison and it renders the baking powder dangerous to use in food.

THE Odd Fellows and other floats that were left out Wednesday night were robbed of the flags and bunting that decorated them.

MEMBERS of Diadem Lodge, No. 81, are earnestly requested to be at Castle Hall Thursday night next. Important business. Ernest Warren, K. of R. & S.

ATTENTION is called to the card of Drs. Slavin & Phillips, who have opened an office here for the practice of Osteopathy, the new art of healing. Read what osteopathy is and consult them.

THE stockholders here will be glad to know that the First National Bank of Florence, Ala., earned nearly 14 per cent. gross during the last six months, the net being $7,530.31. Only a 3 per cent. dividend, however, was declared, expenses and bad debts eating up the rest.

CURIOSITIES.—Warren & Shanks have in their window a glass bottle that was carried through the Revolutionary war by Clement C. Edellin, grand-father of W. E. Amos. They also have a 65-pound bomb-shell, picked up near Cumberland Gap, a horse pistol of wonderful antiquity and the saw of a saw fish which was 18 feet long and which was caught in the Gulf of Mexico. The three last curios belong to Dr. Clifton Fowler.

WHAT the Stanford team did for the Hustonville boys here the 4th was a plenty. Our boys had their "playing clothes on" and defeated the visitors 11 to 0. Harry Higgins' pitching was almost faultless, the Hustonvilles getting only one good hit off of him. Florence caught him well and their support was good. Morse did the star playing for the visitors, making a phenomenal catch at short. The contest stands one and one now and a breaking of the tie will be an interesting game.

Capt. Noaks writes us that "I have a good plan upon which to work to secure my release. I do not want to be vindicated upon a technicality, but as everybody is aware, have little chance for justice in Frankfort at the present, as I regard this a political fight and not a desire to deal out justice to any one."

C. W. Lester, former State inspector, sent this suspicious dispatch: To Robt. Noaks, on train No. 33, Bristol, Tenn.: Must I go to Big Stone Gap after you? Know what? I should act at once. Wire me." On reaching Frankfort Noaks was put in jail, when he wired Gov. Bradley, C. W. Metcalf, of Pineville, and J. C. Mayner, of Corbin, to act as his attorneys. By an agreement between County Attorney Polsgrove and Attorney Mayner, Noaks was released from jail in the custody of a deputy sheriff, until he can be given an examining trial.

When arrested at Big Stone Gap, Robert Noaks told Officer Harrod that he had arrived a day or two later he would not have found him there, as he was preparing to go to Indiana on a visit.

Capt. Noaks telephoned this office last evening to tell his mother, who lives in this county, that he is getting on all right and not to be uneasy about him.

Mother's Boy.

Although drunk in the gutter, I was once mother's boy.

An angel-pure baby, her life hope, her joy;

Now foul and unseemly without and within,

Dyed black as the hades by Cereus sin.

First a sip from the mirth-cup of sparkle-red hue;

'Twas held by a fair one—my sip was her due.

Then "the boys" wooed and won me, I lost and I won;

Thus in lightness and brightness this fate was begun.

When, maddened by pleasure and dazed by their wine,

I left honor's height for the dark deep of crime.

They scorned me, they spurned me, false friendship then fled;

Jail bars proved my vailing—my mother lay dead.

A captive they led me; I reeled to her side,

And heard this low whisper—"of heart-break she died."

"Oh, blackness of blackness!" I wailed. "All is lost!"

Oh, worldly temptation, how doomful thy cost!"

Now—awake in the gutter, but sweetly I dreamed

My mother caressed me; seraphic she seemed.

These, her soft, thrilling words—my future's convey—

"Though of all earth forsaken, you're mother's boy."

Depart, my vile ways! From despair I'll arise!

There's a love that is holy, a love that ne'er dies.

There's yet one who loves me, 'mid slurs of alloy;

Her God loves my mother, and—I'm "mother's boy."

Heredit.

The terrible results of drink to the innocent children of the drunkard, was recently brought out by the investigation of Dr. S. G. Howe, who traced the parentage of 300 idiots, and reported to the legislature of Massachusetts that of the 300, 147 were found to be the children of drunkards.

In one instance seven idiotic children were the offspring of a drunken father and mother. This fact of inherited disease is a terrible contradiction of the argument that a man as a right to drink if he wants to.

The machinery of every rail road train must be kept in good condition in order to run on schedule time. So the machinery of the body and brain must be kept in good condition in order to make the schedule time of a successful life. Neglect may wreck the one and intoxicating liquor may ruin the other.

The lower house of congress has passed a bill which so enlarges the

Protecting powers of the agricultural department that it may use its efforts to preserve, distribute, introduce and restore the great wild birds of the country. The chief weapon by which the department is armed by this law is the enacted prohibition of the transportation through interstate commerce of all game killed in violation of local laws. For years the passage of this measure has been sought by every sportsman's organization and by every bird protective society in the land. The enactment of this law, remarks the Chicago Tribune, does more at one stroke for the preservation of the wild birds than all that the protectionists have accomplished since they began their labors. The measure makes it unlawful for any person to deliver to any common carrier for transportation from one state to another any dead bodies or parts of dead bodies of any animals or birds killed in violation of the laws of the state in which they were shot. It is a well-known fact that nine-tenths of the game consumed in the large cities is taken there from states which have non-export laws. The bill puts into the hands of Uncle Sam the prevention of this lawlessness. Hereafter anybody who sends a gull or a tern to the big millinery markets of Chicago will be an offender against interstate commerce laws. It is believed by the League of American Sportsmen, which has had this bill in charge, that it will be suffered to go to the president for signature without change. The agitation of the last few years by people who have been willing to be called bird cranks and sentimentalists seems at last to have accomplished its purpose. Let the birds sing.

Low rates West. Railroad bargain days via the Monon route. Prospecting parties and tourists will be furnished with schedules and further information by addressing E. H. Bacon, District Passenger Agent, Monon Route, Louisville, Ky.

"Josiah," said Mrs. Cornsall, "I'm sure you can't find no fault with Josiah since we've been to town."
